

SAFETY FIRST

SAFETY PLEDGE

Waste and recycling collections is one of the most dangerous professions based on data by the US Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Solid waste and resource management employees throughout the industry face a wide variety of safety challenges and hazards every day. Nothing is more important at SWANA than making sure you get home safely at the end of the day.

In honor of National Safety Month in the United States, show your dedication to safety by taking the SWANA Safety Pledge, a declaration of your commitment to safeguarding yourself and those around you from harm daily.

This pledge extends its invitation to all, regardless of SWANA membership status. By participating, you signal to peers within the industry your personal investment in prioritizing the safety of every individual.

What is the SWANA Safety Pledge?

"I pledge to help everyone get home safe every single day. I will consider worker, customer, and public safety in every decision that I make.

My ultimate mission is to serve the community safely for myself, my co-workers, and those who depend on me. If I cannot do it safely, then I will not do it at all."

Once you sign the pledge, you can download an e-certificate to demonstrate and display your promise to put safety first.

SWANA encourages all waste and resource management professionals to take our Safety Pledge and make the commitment to performing your work safely and responsibly.

Take the SWANA
Safety Pledge.

See who has already taken the Pledge.

Learn more about
SWANA Safety Initiatives.

SAFETY PLEDGE E-CERTIFICATE

For more #SWANAsafety info and resources visit SWANA.org/safety